Seniors Balance Scale

To the seniors soon to depart from the campus where they had worked and played, Friday the sixth, and Saturday the seventh of June, 1958, were eventful days.

Class Day began at 9:00 a. m. Friday with the appearance of the Class of 1958 marching into William Bingham Gym to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

After a brief welcoming speech, the seniors presented their part of the exercises. To portray the contributions made by the graduating class, a large pair of scales were placed on-stage, weighted down on one side by a basketful of diplomas. The contributions in the fields of music, athletics, scholarship, dramatics, clubs, and literary accomplishments were placed on the other half of the scales to balance the scrolls, signifying that the Class deserved and had earned the diplomas they would receive the next day.

Heath Sandbach, as chairman of the committee which planned the presentation, and Mr. Emery, as chief advisor, helped make the skit a successful one. Other committee members—Charlie Merrill, Sue Merrill, Dawne Christie, Brad Benson, Holly Cotton, Bill Tallon, Betty Lou York and Jo Makepiece—greatly assisted in the writing and organizing.

Alan Ordway, as President of the Senior Class, presented the school with the gift of two flags to be used on the platform at the front of the study hall. Mr. Ireland accepted the gift and proceeded with the distribution of awards.

Pins for membership in the National Honor Society went to new members—Steve Yeaton, John Vinton, Bill Gallagher, Linwood Small, Mimi Ashcraft, Judy Brown, Roz Liston, Ruth Willard, Kaye Blake, Jim Hill, and Dawne Christie. The Readers' Digest award was presented to the valedictorian, Sara Ault. Salutatorian Herbie Morton received ed the Bausch and Lomb Science Award. The Rensselaer Medal was also given at this time to the highest student in mathematics and science. Student Council Citizenship Awards were distributed; Ralph Gould Music Awards, as well as the music certificates and letters, were handed out. The Peg Board, symbol of class superiority in girls' sports, plus Girls' Athletic Association Awards found happy recipients. Evelyn Winslow received the gavel as President of the 1958-59 F. H. A.

The staff members of the Blue and Gold were recognized for their services with certificates. A number of Camera Club members received their silver pins. Proficiency Awards were given in the fields of French and Latin. Letters to track and baseball team members were distributed, as were the athletic sweaters, given to outstanding athletes.

Each award was hard-earned by the person who received it. Congratulations to everyone for the outstanding work!

The seniors again claimed the limelight with the singing of their Ode composed by Pat Kittredge, Connie Chase, and Betty Lou York. Marching in, the heartstrings of many were moved by the music and the long line of the Class of '58.

Dr. Brown Commencement Speaker

On Sunday, June 8, 1958, at 2:00 p. m., Commencement Exercises in honor of this year's graduating class were held on the front steps of the William Bingham Gymnasium. Before a vast crowd of parents and friends the Class of '58, clad in the traditional caps and gowns, approached the speaker's platform to familiar strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." Leading the processional march was Mark Freeman '59, Class Marshal.

Following the invocation presented by the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, the Varsity Glee Club sang the moving selection, "You'll Never Walk Alone." Herbert Morton next gave an introduction to the ceremony in his Salutatory Essay. Dr. Herbert Brown of Bowdoin College, the guest speaker, delivered a most effective address after which the singing of "The Halls of Ivy" struck a final note of sadness. Sara Ault spoke to the audience in her Valedictory Essay, Mr. Ireland announcing honors directly thereafter.

At last the climax of twelve years of schooling was reached by each senior, diploma in hand. Dr. Sidney W. Davidson, chairman of the board of Trustees, officiated during this part of the program.

The benediction by the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, marked the close of the exercises. The Class of '58, now alumni, were faced with a future abounding in opportunity as well as the realization that their wonderful high school career at Gould was only a part of the glowing past.

Alumni Activities

Alumni Day this year, Saturday, June 7, should turn out to be the biggest and best for many years. It will be a busy day for all, alumni and students alike.

At 9:00 a. m. a softball game is scheduled between the senior girls and some of the past female aces. The scuttlebutt has it that this is one of the attractions you should plan not to miss!

After this thriller, the annual alumni meeting will be held in Hanscom Hall, mainly to elect the officers of the Alumni Association for the ensuing year. Mrs. Phyllis D. Dock of Bethel is the President for 1957-58.

At 12:30, the Alumni Luncheon is planned with an appetizing menu of cold turkey and ham, potato salad, pear halves stuffed, cranberry jelly, pickles, chips, cornmeal rolls, nut ice cream rolls, and all the fixings. Dr. Sidney W. Davidson will be the guest speaker. Dr. Davidson, of New York City, is president of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Ireland will lead the singing, as everyone joins in showing the younger generations that the hit songs during the year of his graduation are best in 1958. This banquet will mark a special occasion for a few of the faculty of Gould Academy in a special tribute ceremony.

At 3:00 p. m. the Gould-Alumni baseball game will be held. This game usually proves to be the "neck-and-neck" type from beginning to end. The alumni boys put up quite a fight—but,

The culmination of the social events of the Commencement Weekend was the Commencement Ball held Saturday from 8 'til 12 in the William Bingham Gymnasium. Sophomore and junior ushers led the guests down the receiving line into a delightful scene of a Hawaiian beach, completed by a wave and ocean mural on the walls. Gordon Howe provided very danceable music for the affair, while the refreshment committee served thirst-quenching refreshments to the many couples who spent an enjoyable four hours in the gay atmosphere. Alumni showed up to join the seniors and underclassmen in the dancing.

Mr. Scott and Mr. Anderson advised the different committees connected with this affair. Members of the decoration committee included Sharon Bedell, Richard Saunders, Mary Luxton, Janice Saunders and Mimi Ashcraft. Reg Roberts, Carolyn Sprague, Al Ordway, Martha Brown and Colleen and Carolyn Tibbetts helped in creating a memorable evening. For seventy-eight seniors it was the last high school dance.

with our team!! Oh well, here's wishing the alumni luck anyway.

Between 4:00 and 5:00, tea and coffee will be served at the Headmaster's house for parents and friends.

A man that would thrive must arise at five; he that has thriven may arise at seven.

SENIORS' FETE

Luckily for all concerned, the afternoon hours of June sixth were fine ones for the Senior Class Picnic at Thompson's Pond, Otisfield. It was a merry group that feasted during the day on steaks or lobsters, went swimming, boating, and had a good time in general enjoying the facilities. The period of freedom from work and worry was really appreciated after the hectic days preceding it. However, the group which was homeward bound that evening, though still merry, was a little more tired than when it had set out earlier.

The members of the picnic committee helped to make the day a successful and memorable one for all.

TEA AND CRUMPETS

On Wednesday, May 14, Mrs. Ireland held her annual tea for senior girls.

Upon arriving at 3:30, the girls were greeted by Sara Ault, hostess, and introduced to Mrs. Ireland. After a short visiting time filled with gay chatter, tea was served and a delicious one it was! The able and pretty pourers were Peg Luke and Heath Sandbach; junior girls who helped in the kitchen were: Evelyn Winslow, Ruth Stevens,

FROM HOLMES TO HYDE

British-born Hedley Hepworth presented an assembly program on May 19, in which he portrayed several immortal characters of English literature.

Having been in the United States four years, Mr. Hepworth recently acquired his citizenship. During this time he has toured America extensively.

The first presentation was the strange case of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," a weird tale of a dual personality cleverly written by Robert Louis Stevenson. These characterizations had a striking air of reality, and the facial contortions of Mr. Hyde must have caused many a nightmare.

In contrast, the following performance was that of Sherlock Holmes, that ever-famous Scotland Yard detective. Holmes "got his man" as usual, unaided by his partner Dr. Watson.

The Christmas Carol, written by Charles Dickens, was next on the agenda. Mr. Hepworth dramatized the notorious Mr. Scrooge in his Christmas Eve dream.

Finally, came an English high-school boy visiting the U. S.; while reciting a poem entitled the "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere and Cleopatra," this young gentleman suffered a sudden loss of memory and, much to everyone's enjoyment, blundered hilariously through his recital.

The last of the school-sponsored assembly programs for this year, Mr. Hepworth's will surely be long remembered by his appreciative audience.

LAST NOTES

On Friday, May 23, at 8:00 the Gould Band could be heard playing a Sousa march which opened the annual Spring Concert, presented by the music department of Gould Academy.

Boys' Glee Club, Freshmen-Sophomore Girls' Glee Club, Junior-Senior Girls' Glee Club, and Varsity Glee Club, added to the enjoyment by singing selections including "Ha-La-Li," "Old Black Joe," and excerpts from "Oklahoma," and many more.

Judy Watson, D. J. Bigos, and Merideth Bennett.

Miss Swift, senior class advisor, and Miss Kimball were also invited to share in this tea with the girls. There was almost 100 percent attendance, the only seniors girl absent being Ill.

All the girls spent a very enjoyable afternoon and certainly appreciated the time and effort put into this gala occasion. Many thanks to you, Mrs. Ireland.

TOPORCER INSPIRES STUDENT BODY

On Friday, May 2, the Gould students experienced one of the greatest assembly programs ever presented at Gould. George "Specs" Toporcer's talk made a great impression indeed on the Gould students. Mr. Toporcer, now totally blind, at one time played professional baseball for the St. Louis Cardinals. One highlight of his eighteen years of "pro" baseball was Mr. Toporcer's playing in a World Series game with Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Not only is Mr. Toporcer a great baseball figure, but he is also a sincere man, having developed a very sound philosophy of life. Chosen at one time as Bluebook's "Man of the Year," Mr. Toporcer was the first man who wore glasses to play in the National League. He is frequently called one of the greatest personalities in sports.

"Specs" Toporcer is still an ardent baseball fan.

Besides these facts of his character, Mr. Toporcer also writes sports articles for various magazines and has published a rule book for baseball. He is currently working on a novel concerning his baseball years.

Congratulations to Mr. Toporcer, one of the world's most outstanding figures in more fields than one!

Soloists were: Mary Head, clarinet; Charles Merrill, baritone; Marjane Brown, saxophone; Louise Kennedy, accordion; Dawne Christie, piano; Kent Taylor, saxophone; Sue Rock, trumpet; and Mike Hathaway, trumpet; all did a splendid job. Thanks should also go to Llona Keniston and Donald Christie who accompanied the groups.

The majorettes, Pat Brewster, "D. J." Bigos, Lee Ann Grover, and Lorenda Freeman, treated the audience to a special number with lighted batons. Good work, girls!

After about an hour and one half of melodious entertainment, the band and majorettes ended with a grand finale on the stage in full uniform.

Directed by Mr. Marcuse, who deserved many thanks for ending this year with a bang, the Spring Concert of 1958 was enjoyed by all who attended.

Never speak to deceive, nor listen to betray.

Every man is the architect of his own fortune.

Live to learn and you will learn to live.

A THOUGHT

When, on June 8, 1958, the indigo dusk of evening closes over the stalwart mountains to the north-west of our campus, an important phase in the lives of seventy-eight ex-seniors will have ended. Gould will be to each but a series of memories—pleasant for most, painful for some.

During his high-school years, every individual moulds and develops his character, whether consciously or not; by the time graduation rolls around, he has quite firmly cemented the foundation of his life. At this point, therefore, one must cease to consider his own needs alone, to live for the moment at the expense of the future, and to rely completely upon others for his existence; this is the end of youth, of carefree days—of a whole way of living.

Yet when, on the morning of June 9, a clear dawn disperses the shrouds of mist about those same mountains, an entirely new life will have opened before the seventy-eight fledgling alumni: a life of responsibility and care, to be sure, but also a life overflowing with opportunity; for each there will be the chance to do and become whatever he or she would, and the degree of success will depend on the quality and sincerity of the individual's contributions. This is commencement—a beginning!

Thus graduation, in its dual significance, is the treasured key which locks forever the door of youthful memories and opens wide the golden gate of the future. H. S.

A LEGACY

Earlier in the year an article appeared in this column consisting of advice to the freshmen as given by an observant senior. We should now like to express a few thoughts which may be useful to those in the Class of '59.

The normal reaction of all underclassmen is to envy and yet to respect the seniors. However, may we point out that this fourth year, when we are supposed to be the leaders and example-setters of the school, is not all a bed of roses. You, present juniors, will not have reached Utopia by any means. True, you may have the honor of being president of your class or of some other school organization, but there is more to it than being elected and having the fact recorded in the "Academy Herald."

You, with the help of the faculty advisors, will be responsible for the proper functioning of the group's activities and programs. The knowledge that your mistake or oversight may prove both embarrassing and disastrous to you and others concerned is often more tiring than a few hours of actual manual labor. Not only will you be responsible for planning and outlining the work to be done but also for seeing that it IS done, and promptly.

Now, it is not our intention to discourage you juniors and other underclassmen but only to point out that Leadership is not a sinecure.

It also should be remembered that the activities and tasks peculiar only to those in the senior class consume a stupendous amount of time: choosing a college and perhaps a trip for an interview, college board examinations, graduation plans, class pictures, etc.

Senior Spotlight

ROZ LISTON

If you come upon a smiling, talkative senior girl sitting at her desk on the center aisle in study hall and writing with both hands in a Connecticut accent, it can be none other than Miss Roz Liston, one of Gould's chief ambassadors of good will.

Roz was born on March 12, 1940, in Bronxville, New York. She now lives in Wilton, Connecticut, and entered Gould last year as a junior. Her freshman and sophomore years were spent at Dolan Junior High and Stamford High respectively, in Stamford, Connecticut.

While at Gould, Roz has made a very impressive record: besides having been on the honor roll six out of seven times, she was just elected to the National Honor Society, which is indeed a well deserved appointment.

That French woman who welcomed you to the party of the same nationality was president and a two year member of the French Club, Roz Liston. She has also acted as secretary-treasurer of the dorm council (girls') this year.

Roz has been on the Academy Herald and Blue and Gold staffs for two years now, holding the position of feature writer on the latter during 1957-58. She also deserves much credit for serving as chairman of the newly organized handbook committee.

Her athletic interests include being on the tennis team for two years and a varsity cheerleader this year.

Roz's main interests include art, creative writing, and sailing, her ability in the first two having been well proven.

As to future plans, Roz intends to pursue a career in either psychology or law while in college, but she could doubtless take up both of them at once and still be a huge success. The best of luck to you, Roz, from all your fans here at Gould!

MONSIEUR GAGNON

The most recent addition to the Gould faculty, Philip L. Gagnon—"le professeur de francs"—has proven himself both willing and competent during his few short months on campus.

Monsieur Gagnon, who is from Bangor, Maine, attended St. Francis College in Bridgeport; there he majored in English and minored in Education. Basketball and soccer were among his favorite sports at St. Francis, and his enthusiasm for them is yet unabated.

Although offered a scholarship to Notre Dame, where he intends, eventually, to earn his Masters and Ph.D., Mr. Gagnon decided to postpone this opportunity in order to obtain more experience in teaching.

HEATH SANDBACH

With a pleasant word and smile for all, Heath Sandbach has carved herself a niche in the memories of her many friends and associates at Gould. Born December 8, 1939, she comes to Gould from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

"Variety is the spice of life." Heath has proved this in her many, varied interests at school, in the community, and during her few spare moments. In her three years at Gould she has been active in the French Club, on the Student Council, as a member of the tennis and skiing teams, on the Academy Herald, and particularly as capable and diligent co-editor of the Blue and Gold. Her pleasing personality, plus attributes of competence and helpfulness have won her the votes of schoolmates for secretary of her class and, this year, for a Carnival Queen attendant.

Nor has Heath neglected community service. In Pilgrim Fellowship and Congregational Choir she has given her time and energy to the church.

When not leading a cheer at the football games or performing tasks for her many activities, Heath finds time to ride horseback or enjoy other outdoor sports.

Heath Sandbach has proven herself an outstanding scholar by becoming runner-up for a National Merit Scholarship and earning a much-deserved membership in the National Honor Society.

During her college days at the University of Colorado, she plans to follow a liberal arts curriculum. With the assets she has shown here, however, Heath will surely travel far on the road of success. Our wishes for the best of luck in the years ahead.

True talent in any field is to be admired, and that of Philip Gagnon especially so. One of his greatest loves in life is singing; this he has been doing formally from the age of fifteen. His excellent baritone has won him a place on several T. V. programs, as well as an audition for Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts. The theater and music—opera in particular—are to Mr. Gagnon, a magnetic challenge which he intends one day to meet and conquer. His outstanding renditions of "April in Paris" and "La Vie en Rose," given at the recent French Club Party, are, perhaps, an omen of success.

It seems that Mr. Gagnon, for whom this is the first year of teaching, likes Gould as much Gould likes him; said he—"Can't think of a better place to have started. I'm serious about that."

The pen is mightier than the sword.

HERBERT MORTON

A job well done and the willingness to tackle any task may both be applied to the outstanding record of Herbert Morton, Class of '58, has achieved here at Gould over the past four years. Born in Rumford, Maine, on May 22, 1940, Herbie began his career as a student at the Newry Grade School and now stands in the limelight in his senior year as a four year Honor Roll man, two year member of the National Honor Society, recipient of the Bauch and Lomb Science Award, and salutatorian.

However, Herbie has not confined his activities strictly to academic pursuits, for he has played a leading part in the functioning of many of our clubs and programs. Accredited to his list of extra-curricular activities are four years on the Blue and Gold staff with the position of Co-editor gracing the last year, four years in the Camera Club, the title of President added this year, four year membership in the Varsity and Boys' Glee Clubs, participation in the Baccalaureate Choir, and two years on the Academy Herald staff plus a position on the masthead as Photo Editor for 1957-58. Herbie also undertook managing baseball his sophomore year and has had a hand in the past four presentations of the One Act Plays. Perhaps one of his biggest contributions to Gould this year has been through the operation of audio-visual work. Whether up in the projection room in study hall or out at the ski meets with walkie-talkie in tow, Herbie does a most efficient, appreciable job!

The question in the mind of each senior centers around the near future. Dartmouth College put an end to any doubts which may have been present in Herbie's mind by awarding him a scholarship. As far as actual specializing is concerned, he is primarily interested in science and mathematics, leading eventually to a career in teaching.

Outside of school Herbie favors photography and is also owner of a large record collection of semi-classical and classical music. Some of his time is also devoted to Pilgrim Fellowship and its various activities.

Thus with the arrival of commencement, Gould will lose this year one of its most valuable members. All the luck in the world, Herbie—Dartmouth is fortunate in having you as a student in the Class of 1962!

A man of words and few deeds is like a garden full of weeds.

N. H. S. Honors New Members

On Wednesday, May 28, a group of laughing students climbed into the "cracker box," checked their belongings, someone cooed "All aboard," and the National Honor Society was off for its annual picnic held at the Bethel Inn Cottage on Songo Pond.

The canoes were soon discovered, and everyone was being challenged to a race.

Grilled hamburgers and hot dogs (with Mr. Ireland as chief chef), potato chips, sandwiches, soft drinks, cake and ice cream were on the menu.

After a long walk along the natural, more than ever is expected of you academically. Don't rest on your laurels! Keep that high average right up until graduation!

You have probably noted a common thread running through these few paragraphs: the question of time. As seniors you will never have enough of this flexible element. The ability to apportion your activities and duties with discretion may determine your overall success next year. Perhaps the secret, if that word doesn't steep our purposes too deeply in mysticism, of a fruitful senior year may be summed up in a very hackneyed but nevertheless very apt

And, of course, just because you are a senior does not mean that you can stop studying. Conversely, as is only phrase: "Budget your time wisely!" H. M.

pond, the group returned to find that last year's members were ready and waiting to initiate the new members. This was in the pattern of "Truth or Consequences"; the questions of course, were impossible to answer, and the consequences ranged from being shaven by a blind-folded barber to pushing pennies along the floor, blind-folded, with the face buried deep in a box of flour. By the TIME the initiation was completed, all felt they had been duly punished.

Two teams were then formed for charades, which was played until everyone had participated.

At nine-thirty the party came to a close with the ride back to Bethel; everyone left expressing appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, and Mr. and Mrs. Hillier for giving their time to the occasion.

A. A. Activities

On Thursday, May 1, 1958, at 6:30 p m., the girl athletes of Gould Academy and their honored guests attended the annual banquet in the dining room of Gehring Hall.

After all had enjoyed a delicious meal of roast beef, mashed potatoes, string beans and cinnamon rolls, topped off with apple pie a la mode, the evening's program got under way.

The guest speaker, Miss Lena Walmsley, Director of Physical Education for Women at Bates College, gave an interesting talk on the improvements of physical education over the years, illustrating this with slides of the progression in gym costumes used at Bates.

Awards were then presented by the individual class representatives: Peg Luke, senior; Jo-Ann Roderick, junior; Sue Martin, sophomore; Mary Willard, freshman.

Either letters or numerals were received by forty-three girls, who had earned the required number of points. Two freshmen girls, Carol Bilderback, and Mary Willard, were the only ones in their class eligible for their numerals; this is quite an honor.

Sara Ault, president of the Girls' Athletic Association during this past year, led the installation of officers chosen for the coming year. Those elected were as follows:

President: Ruth Willard.
Vice-President: Gloria Kneeland.
Secretary: Louise Lincoln.
Treasurer: Jane Greig.
Senior Representative: Ann Carter.
Junior Representative: Janet Smith.

The managers and assistants of the various girls' sports are as follows: Archery—Penny Davis, manager, Jean Corey, assistant; Basketball—Mary Jasper, manager, Lorenda Freeman, assistant; Badminton—Sara Stowell, manager; Ping Pong—Dede McCann, manager; Bowling—Pam Young, manager, Merry Ring, assistant; Skiing—Sue Martin; Manager, Mary Willard, assistant; Skating—Nancy Davis, manager, Cindy Burris, assistant; Officiating—Judy Watson, manager; Hockey—Sue Saunders, manager, Sally Burns, assistant; Hiking—Sally Webster, manager, Carol Chapman, assistant; Tennis—Sandra Cole, manager, Louise Kennedy, assistant; Volleyball—Evelyn Winslow, manager, Mary Ann Chase, assistant; Softball—Ruth Stevens, manager, Helen Miller, assistant.

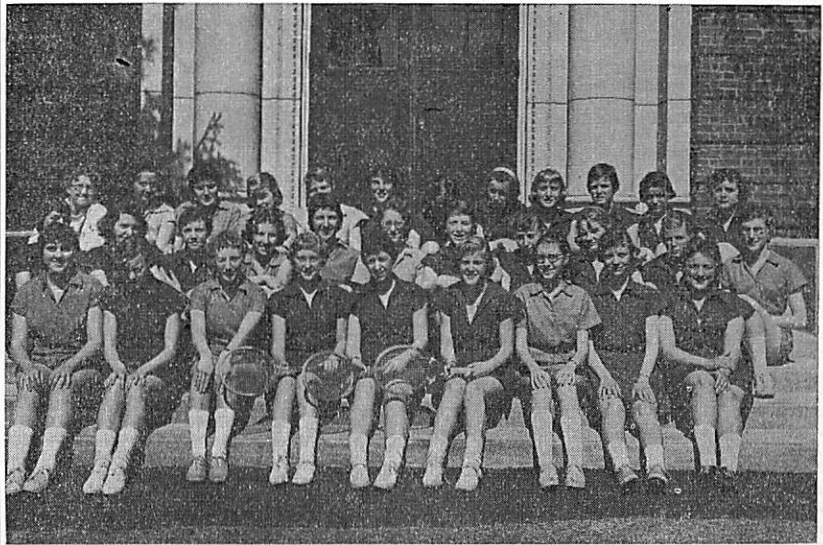

The banquet ended with the singing of our school song, led by Mr. Ireland. The whole affair was a complete success and enjoyed by everyone.

On Saturday, May 31, all the girls who had earned their athletic numerals and letters, and the old and new members of the Girls' Athletic Association headed for Judy Brown's camp at Papoose Pond in Waterford for their annual picnic and overnight trip.

After spending a delightful day swimming, sunbathing and eating, most of the girls returned home, leaving only this year's G. A. A. members to spend the night.

Rolled up in sleeping bags inside the spacious camp and outside on the bare ground, the girls talked the night away, while munching on samores and sipping cokes.

Sunday afternoon, after a cooked-out lunch, the girls, tired but happy, left the camp, taking with them memories of another fun-packed G. A. A. outing.

Sports Day

Early Saturday morning, May 17, thirty-seven sleepy-faced girls dragged themselves out to the waiting bus and, stowing their equipment in the back seats, settled down for the long ride to Kent's Hill.

Although the weather was cloudy and drizzling, the girls entered into their various sports with pep and spirit. The crack Jayvee softball team's victory was one to be acclaimed, for the final score, after four innings, 41 to 11, Gould's favor. The Varsity softball team didn't do as well; the final score of their game was 20 to 11, in favor of Kent's Hill.

The tennis matches were hard and fast, ending with close scores. Sandra Cole and Nikki McMillin won their singles matches, winning 2 out of 5 games. In the doubles matches Heath Sandbach and Sandra Cole won, leaving Kent's Hill with the upper hand, having 2 out of three matches.

As the last events ended, the hungry girls hurried out to long picnic tables where they shared a delicious meal of hamburgers, potato salad, milk, and ice cream sandwiches with the rest of the Kent's Hill students.

After a short period of seeing the campus, the tired but successful girls climbed back onto the bus and returned to Gould.

Too Many?

The question which your Inquiring Reporter has chosen to ask various members of the student body and faculty is: "Do you think that there are more organizations at Gould than the student body can support?" Replies fell into the general category, "NO, but..."

Miss Kimball: "I don't actually think that there are too many organizations, but I do feel that more people should support different ones."

Mark Freeman: "I don't know about those concerning only girls; but, as for those supported by girls and/or boys, I surely don't think we have too many."

Donald Christie: "There aren't too many; it's just that they aren't supported enough."

Sandra Olson: "NO, I don't!!! I do think that there should be a wider participation though."

Ruth Willard: "There aren't too many organizations; it's just that each one should choose one or two and support it wholeheartedly instead of having just a few trying to do it all."

Miss MacDougal: "I don't feel that we have too many clubs; however, my next thought would be that possibly some which could include a larger number of participants might be substituted for one or two of those which now exist."

Yours truly: "If everyone in school supported just one outside activity wholeheartedly we would be one of the most active and progressive institutions in the country!"

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL GOULD CAMERA CLUB SHOW NOW IN PROGRESS

Because of his wide contacts with many of the finest professional and amateur photographers in the country, Mr. Gayle Foster, founder and mentor of the Gould Camera Club, has been able to feature scores of salon prints from their collections in the past years during the Annual Camera Club Show. This year's show, now on display in Hanscom Hall and in Holden Hall and marking the sixteenth such feature of Gould's Commencement Week, is no exception.

Forty-five pictures, all of which have been displayed at many salons both here and abroad, from the skilled hands of Irene M. Heffner, AFSA, of Albany, N. Y., are this year's feature. Starting as what she admits was a complete amateur, Miss Heffner, now a most active sixty-eight, was a pioneer member of the Albany Camera Club in its infancy just twenty years ago. Thru the brilliant assistance of the well-known "Sam" Grieson, she progressed steadily in the arcane mysteries of photography and soon was having her nature studies hung in the displays of many big city shows. Of particular note in the Bethel display are several photoprepts which have been colored in oils, bringing to this combination of arts a novelty seldom seen; oil painting was a hobby with Miss Heffner before she tried photography, and the wedding of these two hobbies has been a most striking and productive success.

A staunch feminist, Miss Heffner is sure that women's place in this formerly all-male field is secure at present, and cites "patience" as a predominantly womanly trait of great value in making prints. She also deprecates the fact that more young people are not showing interest, noting that her contacts in the various clubs she has visited range in age from the middle years to the 80's. The gallant lady would doubtless be encouraged by the work of Gould teen agers, hanging alongside here at present.

Gould Over Cony

Saturday, May 10, a sunny warm day, brought a third straight victory to the Husky tracksters who won over Cony with a score of 76% to 40%. Guy Whitten led the high scoring Huskies, racking up 18 points to put Gould out ahead. The Gould team piled up ten first places out of thirteen.

Larry Cummings of Gould won the discuss event with a throw of 112' 3". Following Cummings was Constantine of Cony, with Bill Ide of Gould placing third.

The pole vault brought forth a tie between Pete Karpowich and Hagen, both vaulting 9' 6". Third for Gould was Fred Lincoln.

Guy Whitten triumphed over the high hurdles with a time of 16.7 sec. Pete Karpowich placed second in the event.

In the hundred yard dash McCabe of Cony won the event with a time of 11 sec., followed by Don Christie and Bob Weston, both of Gould.

Richard Grover broke the tape at the finish line of the mile, racking up a time of 5 min. 3 sec., followed by Bill Miller of Cony and Jeff Newsom of Gould.

Gould swept the shot with Pete Nichols launching a heave of 43' 3", trailed by Eric Wight and Alan Ordway.

In the high jump, York of Cony won the event, clearing the bar at 5' 2". Guy Whitten came in second in the event.

Bob Weston won the 440 yard dash, streaking around the track with a time of 57.5 sec., followed by Tim Carter and Beechard of Cony.

Guy Whitten took his second first place of the day, winning the broad jump with a jump of 19' 7". Beechard of Cony placed second with Bill Gallagher coming in third for Gould.

In the javelin, York of Cony won the event with a throw of 144'. Bill Ide and Richard Grover followed.

Guy Whitten won the low hurdles, racking up a time of 14.5 sec., followed by Selwood of Cony and Gallagher of Gould.

In the 220 yard dash Don Christie burst across the finish line with a time of 24.3. McCabe of Cony and Paul Murphy of Gould followed respectively.

Donald Angevine won the 880 with a time of 2 min. 12.2 sec., followed by Bill Miller of Cony and Larry Cummings of Gould.

Gould Victorious in State Meet

Gould took the Class M honors in the 25th annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet in Waterville on Saturday, May 31, when they edged last year's champs, Winslow, by a score of 44 to 42%. Guy Whitten led the Huskies to the championship with three firsts and one second place for a total of 22 points. Individual scoring for Gould went as follows:

Shot put—Nichols (4th)
Pole vault—Karpowich (three way tie for 3rd)

High jump—Whitten (1st), (Height: 5 ft. 6 in.)
Broad jump—Whitten (2nd.)
Discus—Ide (1st), (Distance: 12 ft. 6 in.); Nichols (4th); Cummings (5th)
120 High hurdles—Whitten (1st), (Time 16.8 sec.)
Mile—Angevine (2nd); Grover (4th)
180 Low hurdles—Whitten (1st), (Time: 21.5 sec.)
460—Dallinger (5th)
880—Cummings (4th)

Her preferences in subject matter are nature, especially scenes in which winter, and its concomitants, ice and snow, play a big part. Visitors to the Gould exhibit will see many such, including some salty sea shots which breathe the very atmosphere of the Maine coast, as well as bucolic winter scenes, where Miss Heffner's keen sense for striking composition of snow drifts, ice-bound brooks, and sparkling crystals is abundantly evident.

As usual, the remainder of the show presents a panorama of the school's activities in every line—sports, club activities, music, dramatics, skits, etc. Prints by members of the club vie in interest with the montages of pictures which appear in the Gould year book, the Academy Herald. The exhibit will continue in both Hanscom and Holden Halls during the entire week of June 2-7. A cordial invitation to all Bethel folks is extended by the Academy to attend this once-a-year outstanding event in the Gould calendar year.

Baccalaureate Services

On Sunday morning, June 8, at 10:30 the members of the class of '58 marched into the Bethel Congregational Church for the traditional Baccalaureate Exercises. After the seniors were seated in their designated positions at the front of the church, the service began, held in the midst of several effective floral arrangements. Ministers from both the Methodist and Congregational Parishes participated in the program. Reverend Gardiner Day of Cambridge, Massachusetts, delivering the sermon. Under the direction of Mr. Walter Marcuse, the Baccalaureate Choir sang three selections: "The Gould Hymn," "Once to Every Man and Nation," and "Old Hundred Psalm." Followed in the Benediction the seniors passed out of the Church, this significant ceremony marking their last day as a student at Gould Academy.

Klass Kapers

Seniors:

During this last term, the seniors have been busy—busy—busy.

They have finally reached the beginning of the end, their time being taken up with tests, banquets and, of course, preparation for final exams!!

Plans for future years vary greatly. For many it is off to college, where next fall they'll begin all over again as freshmen; others will be working, or even serving their country.

Last but by no means least, eight of our girls are soon to be wed. Among those receiving diamonds are Pat Morton, Ellen Lord, Jane Bennett, Cleo Cole, Claudia Hetch, Janice Saunders, Carolyn Tibbetts, and Babs Plummer. Congratulations to you all!

On the Varsity softball team, which journeyed to Kent's Hill on Saturday, May 17, four senior girls represented the class. These were Anita Morel, Florence Merrill, Pat Joslin, and Sue Merrill. Although defeated, a good game was played by all.

Since this is the last insert under this column for the Class of '58, the "Blue and Gold" wishes each and everyone of you the very best of luck in the future!

Juniors:

Among the juniors who helped win the archery at the Kents Hill Field Day were Sara Stowell, who took first place, Meredith Bennett, Gloria Burris, Sue Dennison, and Marj Morton.

Results of last week's Student Council elections showed that Mary Jasper, Judy Watson, Linwood Small, and Fred Dallinger have been chosen as our representatives. A hearty congratulations!

The leaders of the newly formed Safety Council are Fred Dallinger, Steve Yeaton, Larry Cummings and Kirk Newsom.

This concludes our column for this issue and for the year. Be sure to look for our familiar names next year under the senior column.

Sophomores:

During the second week of May the sophomores, along with the other classes, held elections for the members of next year's student council. The students who were nominated for election in the class of '60 were Ben White, John Todd, Kent Taylor, Donald Christie, Sue Martin, Sue Saunders, Bunny Blake, and Mary Jo Head. The results revealed that John Todd, Kent Taylor, Bunny Blake, and Sue Martin are the sophomores' choice for next year. Congratulations to them and may they serve their classmates well!

Well, sophomores, we have advanced another step in our years here at Gould; fond remembrances of the sophomore class will remain with us always. Good luck to all during the next year!

Freshmen:

The Student Council members to represent the class of '60 next year are as follows: Louise Lincoln, Louise Kennedy, Fred Lincoln, and Bill Call.

The F. H. A. has had its annual election. Freshmen obtaining offices are: Melvina Learned, song leader; Dixie Lea Brown, secretary; and Louise Lincoln, reporter.

Congratulations, Fred Lincoln and Dixie Lea Brown! You did an excellent job on your Herald assignment.

In Girls' Sports: Lorenda Freeman won the Badminton Peg for her class!

Homemakers Entertain Mothers

Friday night, May 16, was one which the Mothers and their daughters who are members of the Future Homemakers of America will not soon forget, it being the occasion of the first F. H. A. banquet ever held at Gould.

The gym was attractively decorated with red roses and geraniums; the name cards were replicas of little red houses with the names printed on the white doors. Each present wore a red-ribbon corsage.

Following a delicious meal prepared and served by the senior girls, an explanation of the F. H. A. emblem was given by the sophomore class members. Next a style show with Dixie Lea Brown as commentator was presented by the freshman and sophomore girls, showing garments which had been made this year.

SACRED CONCERT

The Congregational Church was dimly lighted, and clear voices echoed through during the annual Sacred Concert; held on May 4, at 8 p. m.

Under the experienced direction of Mrs. John Tebbets, the adult, high school, and junior choirs sang many beautiful selections including "Ye Sons and Daughters," "Accept Thy Thanks," "Alleluia," and others.

Solos and a duet were performed by Mrs. Marcuse and Mrs. Bean.

Clubs

FRENCH CLUB

At the meeting on May 14, it was decided that the annual picnic on Sunday, May 26, would be held at Screw Auger Falls in Newry. Objections raised by the members that there was no swimming area at Screw Auger was quelled by the knowledge that no swimming would be allowed, no matter where they went.

On May 20, President Roz Liston called a short meeting that members might nominate officers, to be elected during the week of May 26, for next year. This brings to a close one of the most successful years that this cultural organization has experienced.

CAMERA CLUB

At a recent meeting the members were shown the "Master Series." This is a group of ten best photographs of some of America's leading shutter-masters which is loaned with the accompanying lecture by Eastman Kodak. On this occasion Miss Verna Swift, instructor at Gould and avid amateur photographer, was invited to read the literature. Following this portion of the program Miss Swift showed the members a few of her collection of colored slides.

As we go to press, plans are being made by the executive board and Mr. Gayle Foster, advisor, for the annual show in June. This display, found in room 108, Hanscom Hall, during Graduation week, is the work of some eminent amateur photographers. President Herb Morton expresses a desire that all Gould students examine this exhibit before it is taken down in the afternoon of June 8.

Alumni

As this is the last issue of the Blue and Gold for the school year 1958, Wally decided that he would keep his article short. Wally would like to extend his Concluding the entertainment were colored slides, which showed many activities of the home economics classes. The slides, taken by Miss Whitney, were explained by each of the class chairmen.

The final event of the evening came with the beautiful and impressive candlelight initiation of the new officers. They were President — Evelyn Winslow, Vice-President — Nancy Davis, Secretary — Dixie Lea Brown, Treasurer — Sylvia Benson, Parliamentarian — Charlotte Westleigh, Historian — Gloria Childs, Songleader — Melvina Learned, and Reporter — Louise Lincoln.

Congratulations to the F. H. A. for a very successful "first attempt."

Gould choir members participating in the Concert were: Al Orday, Bill Ide, Peg Luke, "Konnie" Chase, B.B. Back, Walter Tibbetts, Sara Ault, Steve Watson, Larry Bragg, John Todd, Sandy Cole, Freda Gammon, Rick Cummins, Mimi Ashcraft, Jane Coffin, Sharon Bedall, Judy Watson, Mary Jasper, Jo Maskepeace and Heath Sandbach.

After a full hour of enjoyable music, refreshments were served to all by the ladies of the church.

This occasion also marked the finale for Dawne Christie as organist. All wish to thank her for her many years of devoted work, and to wish her much luck in her future musical career.

GOULD PARTICIPATES IN STATE-WIDE MUSIC FESTIVAL

On the morning of May 8, 1958, a bus-load of somewhat sleepy but excited students headed for Fryburg Academy, where an interscholastic festival was to be held.

Upon reaching Fryburg, the musicians registered their names in the school administration building; then on to the Gibson Recreation Center, the Gibson Gym, and Library, for rehearsals of the glee clubs and bands.

A busy afternoon spent in intensive practice was concluded by a delicious supper served in the academy dining hall.

Eight o'clock arrived almost too soon. With the singing of "Salutation," the premier of the Music Festival for Independent Schools began.

The program was composed of selections by the band, the mass choir, and some solo numbers.

The pieces sung included "Alleluia," "One World," "Good Day," "Go Down Moses," as well as others. The boys, girls, and band also did separate selections.

Climaxing the two hour program was "The Hundredth Psalm" sung by the mass choir and played by the band and the Conn organ.

Although hoarse and exhausted, everyone felt keenly the sensation of success and a job well done. Thank you, Mr. Marcuse!

Other schools represented at the festival were Berwick, Lee, North Yarmouth and Waynflete.

Best wishes to the present Senior class who will be among the alumni he will visit and call on next year.

Our little roving reporter hopes to see many alumni here for Commencement and the Alumni Banquet. Best of luck in the annual Alumni Baseball game! See you all next year.

FOR YOUR

SUMMER READING:

Who was Adam? Who were our first ancestors? The tales of discoveries of the answers to these questions read like true mystery stories.

During the time that most scientists thought the Biblical story of creation completely accurate, there arose a desire to ascertain this fact by scientific proof. As the greatest disaster ever faced by man was the Flood, it seemed only natural that they try to develop the authenticity of this event; and try they did! Herbert Wendt's "In Search For Adam" is the story of these scientists' lives and theories, their controversies and discoveries, their inspired intuitions and their obstinately defended errors. It is a book which makes the people who dub natural history and allied subjects dull and uninteresting veritably eat their words.

"The Mountain Road" by Theodore H. White ("Fire In The Ashes") is the absorbing story of a people, the Chinese, who live on into eternity, despite the irritation of a major war with Japan. The author shows a great knowledge of Chinese customs, people, foods, and history. There is skill in the presentation of the plot; White is an old pro in the art of creating suspense. A Japanese lurks behind every hill, keeping the reader on his toes until the very end.

Exchange

Greetings! Spring is here, and all our exchange papers are filled with news of track, baseball, senior plays, and the many scholastic leaders of various schools. Also, one often comes across items of particular interests and humor such as the following:

From Mexico, a few more daffy-nishuns—

Caterpillar — an upholstered worn.

Cute—a word used when "adorable" is exhausted.

Horsefly—a fly that has lost its voice.

Oh, gosh how I love he;
And how I wish that he loved me;
But he loves she and she ain't me,
And that's why he and me ain't we!

Good luck, Lawrence, with your new staff! They are doing a great job.

Confucius say:
The number of blasts that come from auto horns in a traffic jam is equal to the sum of the squares behind the wheels.

We Have It! A Miracle Diet!

Monday—
Breakfast: Weak tea
Lunch: 1 bouillon cube in ½ cup diluted water
Dinner: 1 pigeon thigh and 3 oz. prune juice

IN THE GROOVE

Classical—Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orchestra play the magical "La Mer" (The Sea) and the melodic "Iberia," written by Claude Debussy, that sensitive impressionist whose shimmering notes spin strange, exotic visions.

Jazz — Louis Armstrong has the hottest horn and the warmest heart in jazz—and both are caught as never before on his new album "Satchmo the Great." "St. Louis Blues" and "Mack the Knife" are two selections from this milestone of modern music.

Pop—David Seville sings the popular "Witch Doctor," a catchy, novelty with strange lyrics.

Blues — RCA has recently released an album by Lena Horne, "Stormy Weather." Miss Horne has a special quality which she uses in her singing; she treats her songs with respect, understanding, humor and tenderness. Some of the selections in this album are "Stormy Weather" and "Tomorrow Mountain."

Maine is the only state that has Freedom, Liberty and Unity, (all names of towns).

When a man is wrapped up in himself, the package is small.

Tuesday—

Breakfast: Scraped crumbs from 1 small slice burnt toast

Lunch: Doughnut hole (no sugar) and 1 glass dehydrated water

Dinner: Canary eye-brows—stewed—no fat

Wednesday—

Breakfast: Rolled out stains of 1 boiled table cloth

Lunch: ¼ dozen poppy seeds

Dinner: Bees' knees—mosquito knuckles with vinegar

Thursday—

Breakfast: Four chopped banana seeds

Lunch: Broiled butterfly liver

Dinner: Fillet of soft shell crab claw

Friday—

Breakfast: Shredded egg shell skins

Lunch: Belly-button from one navel orange

Dinner: Two eyes from Irish potatoes

Saturday—

Breakfast: Two lobster antennae

Lunch: One guppy fin

Dinner: Jelly fish vertebrae a la bookbinder

Sunday—

Breakfast: Pickled hummingbird tongue

Lunch: Prime rib roast of tad pole

Dinner: Tossed paprikas clover leaf salad.

Huskies Win Western Maine Conference

Gould vs. South Paris

On the sunny afternoon of May 2, 1958, the Gould Huskies chalked up their second win in as many games, as they romped over So. Paris, 19-2, on the So. Paris field. Aided by So. Paris errors and walks, the Gould team scored most of its runs in bunches, with So. Paris substituting pitchers freely, trying in vain to halt the barrage.

The big blow among the Gould hits was Bob Felt's triple. Ted White had a good day at the plate, getting four hits for five official times at bat. Al Sumner pitched a strong game for the winners, scattering four hits and striking out nine.

Gould Defeats Fryeburg

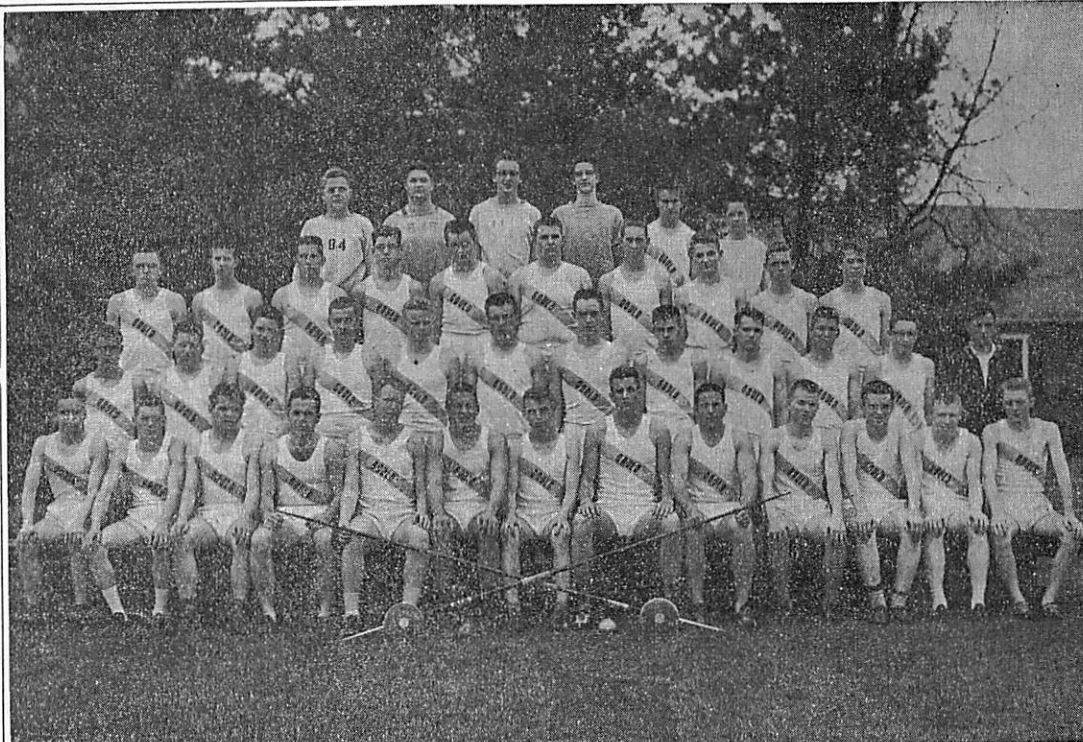

In their third game of the 1958 baseball season, Gould met Fryeburg Academy on the Fryeburg field and downed them by a score of 8-0.

The Huskies started their attack in the second inning when Cummins walked and Felt slammed a long home run to deep center, bringing in the first two runs of the ball game. Numbers three and four came about in the third inning when White and Sumner each singled, Cummins got on an error, and Saunders singled, bringing White and Sumner across. In the fifth, White was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and was sacrificed to third by Sumner; he scored on a single by Cummins. Gould's final three runs came in the ninth inning, when Cummins doubled and Saunders singled, sending him to third, Felt got on an error, Cummins scored, and Saunders moved to second. Rice then walked and Black singled, bringing in Saunders and Felt.

Bill Black started and went the distance on the mound, pitching a beautiful four-hit shut out. Rick Cummins led the Husky hitting attack, going three for four at the plate.

Huskies Edge Bridgton

Traveling to Bridgton, the Gould Huskies continued unbeaten as they defeated their hosts, 5-1 on May 13, 1958. Al Sumner pitched an excellent game for Gould, giving up only two hits and four walks while striking out ten. Gould broke into the scoring column first with two runs in the first of the third. Bridgton came back with one run in the last of that inning. Scoring two more in the sixth and one in the seventh, however, the Huskies clinched the game.

Winslow Edges G. A.

On Saturday, May 10, a sunny warm day, Gould played host to the Winslow track team. In the 880, the last and deciding race of the meet, Winslow needed a second place or better to clinch it, having then a score of 57-51. As they came down the homestretch, Don Angevine and Richard Grover were in the lead and everyone thought that Gould had won. Nevertheless, Winslow's Roland Dyer, in the last 20 yards of the race, pulled ahead of Grover to edge out Gould with a final score of 60-57. The meet could have gone either way, each team having given a fine showing.

In the 100 yard dash, Johnson of Winslow took first place in the event with a time of 10.4 sec; Michaud and Christie followed. Again in the 220 yard dash Johnson of Winslow took first place with a time of 24.2 sec; Donald Christie of Gould and Michaud followed respectively.

Gould Cops Oxford Title

On Saturday, May 24, five track teams from schools in Oxford County met at Gould to compete for the Oxford County Class M Track Championship.

Throughout the meet, Gould led by a wide margin and won with a score of 75 points. Norway, trailing far behind with 23 points, was runner-up with Mexico, Oxford, and Fryeburg taking third, fourth, and fifth places.

Guy Whitten with 18 points was high scorer for the Huskies and set new field records in the hurdle events. Charles Truman took the honors for Norway with a sweep of the sprints and a first in the broad jump.

Thinclads Down Farmington

In their second meet of the season the Huskies swept to victory behind Guy Whitten and Pete Nichols. Gould scored 81 1/2 points to Farmington's 56 1/2 and Oxford's 5. The Blue and Gold took 8 out of 13 firsts and tied for the high jump and the 880. The pole vault was captured for Oxford's lone tally.

The Huskies swept the discus event with Bill Ide scaling it 123' 2", followed by Pete Nichols and Paul Murphy.

Physical Exertion

In the spring, the snow melts and the flowers and grass begin to thrive—usually. To put it mildly, 1958 is different. However, the calendar never is different. For this reason, the spring sports, baseball and track, began immediately after Easter. To the few inhabitants of Holden Hall who couldn't see themselves as Mickey Mantles or Bobby Morris, spring "Physical Exertion" loomed up again. The program is the same as in the fall, except that baseball takes the place of football. Through this scheduled program, the boys get a chance to use the Field House and field, not to mention develop that "Mr. America" look.
